YOU'VE GOT TO HAVE ART-ER, HEART

You got to have heart as well as other things if you want to go anywhere in this life. At least that's what Peter Hawkins says about his play "You Got to Have Heart", due for staging December 19 in the high school auditorium. At rehearsals last night the cameraman shot this tableau formed by Waitland Beckett, left, writer-producer-actor Peter Hawkins, Diane Alington and Maureen Schoening.

BRAGE MURDER HEARING OPENS

Magistrate Refuses To Bar Press, Public

An application by Defence Counsel F. C. Christian that the public and press be excluded from the preliminary hearing of Olin Lee Brage, 33, on a charge of murder, was disallowed by Magistrate H. J. Jennings at the hearing got underway in Penticton Police Court this morning.

Mr. Christian said that if Brage was committed for trial, one or more persons in the courtroom during the preliminary hearing might be called upon to be a juror at the trial.

"We are dealing here with a capital offence," Mr. Christian said. "It is very important that the accused not be prejudiced in any way."

Mr. Christian said that if Brage was committed for trial, one or more persons in the courtroom during the preliminary hearing might be called upon to be a juror at the trial.

"We are dealing here with a capital offence," Mr. Christian said. "It is very important that the accused not be prejudiced in any way."

Brage was clean-shaven and dressed in a blue sport shirt and black corduroy trousers.

First two witnesses to be called this morning were Cpl. James T. Anderson, identification section, Chilliwack detachment RCMP, and Mrs. Richard Gale, Kaledon housewife and registered nurse for 16 years.

Cpl. Anderson identified photographs he took of the death cabin, the body of Anita Budde, and the surrounding area on August 4 and 5 and Nov. 13.

Cpl. Anderson also gave measurements of the inside of the cabin and the bed on which Miss Budde was found dead. A plan of the inside of the cabin was described and introduced as evidence.

Mrs. Gale testified that shortly after 6 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 4 she and her husband were awakened by "an agitated pounding on the door."

She said she heard a voice calling "Get the police" and "Get a doctor."

Mrs. Gale told court she met Olin Lee Brage at the door and he said "Something dreadful has happened" and "She needs help badly."

He kept repeating these phrases without explaining what had actually happened.

On the way to the cabin Brage said "I think she's dead. I think she's been raped," Mrs. Gale testified.

Mrs. Gale went on to describe the scene in the cabin as she saw it upon arrival there.

A woman, scantily clad in a pyjama top, was lying on the bed, one foot resting on the floor, she said.

The Kaledon housewife told court that the woman's right eye was closed and bruised, the other eye partially open, her hair rumpled and there was blood under her nose.

"I attempted to find if there was a pulse," she said. "There was no pulse. I spoke to her and there was no response."

Mrs. Gale said she was fairly sure the woman was dead.

SECOND WITNESS

Just prior to the recess of the hearing till 3 p.m., three other witnesses gave evidence. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Karrer of Kaledon described how Brage had been working for them and was renting their orchard on a crop-share basis for 1958. Cyril J. Lines of Kaledon was called to the witness stand to outline his identification of Miss Budde's body, Aug. 5, at Penticton Funeral Chapel, explaining that he had known her for about three weeks previous and his family had given her a ride to church on two Sundays.

Describing the events of the early morning of Aug. 4, both Mr. and Mrs. Karrer told how they were awakened shortly after 6 a.m. by Brage in an agitated condition, who led them to the cabin where Miss Budde had been staying.

Mrs. Karrer was the only one to enter the cabin and found the body lying partly on the bed. In the other corner of the room she said there was a hot plate and coffee maker both "awfully hot."

Seeing there was nothing she could do for the woman, Mrs. Karrer returned to the house while Brage and her husband waited for the police.

Members Who Will Work are Needed

Mayor C. E. Oliver dropped a bombshell yesterday by calling for the resignation of one of the members of his council.

In a statement to the Herald, His Worship divulged that he had asked Ald. A. C. Kendrick "to tender his resignation for the good of the city. I know of no other way to bring things to a head."

ALD. KENDRICK

MAYOR OLIVER
... asks resignation

Ald. Kendrick still has a further year of a two-year term to serve.

Mayor Oliver emphasized that he was making public his request, "because the public should realize the desperate need on the council for members who will turn in and do some work."

He said he was not condemning Ald. Kendrick "as a person," but was singling him out and asking him to resign "because in his capacity as a school teacher he simply cannot carry his fair share of the many duties descending on all members of council these days."

The Herald asked Mayor Oliver what Ald. Kendrick's reaction had been to the request to resign.

"He refused—with some hostility," Mayor Oliver answered.

"But I've no hesitation in taking this strong stand," Ald. Kendrick just isn't around whenever there's a load of committee duties. There are other members of council with whom I differ on lots of things, but for the most part they are ready and willing to meet on committees to try to do the city's business. This doesn't apply to Ald. Kendrick."

Here the mayor said there had been a lot of criticism of Ald. Erant in serving on two bodies, both the council and school board. Ald. Erant was recently defeated in the annual civic elections, losing both his posts.

"But let's take a look at this man, Kendrick," Mayor Oliver stressed. "He took leave of absence from the council for an extended time in his first year. This enabled him to get higher academic status, and as a result he will now automatically get better pay. Now I ask you, who has really been improving himself by holding down two jobs? Erant got not one cent for his years of work on the school board."

The city, in Mayor Oliver's statement, does not realize the "urgent need for active aldermen who are willing or able to give of council with the multitude of tasks involved."

One Killed, Two Injured in Crash

A Penticton man, Kenneth Sieben, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sieben, 398 Echart Avenue, spent a satisfactory night in Kamloops hospital last night after sustaining a broken back in a jeep-train collision near Kamloops.

One of Sieben's companions, George W. McDonald, died following the accident. In critical condition in hospital is Graham Gibbons of Chase.

A fourth passenger in the car, James Sparrow, Kamloops, escaped unharmed.

"I'm alive and unharmed because I pure luck I sat next to the door of the jeep," Sparrow said.

"The driver couldn't jump because the train was bearing down on his side — and the other two didn't have time to follow me."

"Gibbons put on the brakes but we kept on going like we were riding a sled. I jumped at the last second and landed about five feet from the tracks."

"It was worse than anything I just to sit there and see the train ram the jeep and shove it down the tracks."

GEORGE W. McDONALD.

McDonald of Kamloops, died in hospital Wednesday shortly after the accident. He had been married in Penticton on October 11. The accident occurred at Pritchard, 25 miles east of Kamloops.

Three Hospitalized Following Bus Accident

PRINCETON — Two men and a woman were taken to Princeton General Hospital early this morning with injuries suffered when their Greyhound bus slid sideways into a parked OK Valley freighter truck one mile east of here.

RCMP at Princeton estimated total damages at between $6,000 and $7,000 to the bus and truck, and attributed the mishap to "extremely slippery" road conditions.

Names of the injured trio, among some 20 passengers aboard the Vancouver-bound bus, were not immediately available. A hospital spokesman said, however, that the injuries were not serious. One of the men had been released and the others would be released within a day or two, he said. A report that the woman suffered a fractured jaw could not be confirmed.

The mishap occurred about 1 a.m. today on a curving grade near Princeton. The bus had swung to the left to go around the parked freighter which had stopped to wait for another truck ahead that was having difficulty making the grade. Abreast of the parked freighter, the slow-moving bus slid into the left rear of the truck, caving in its right side.

Driver of the bus was Eric Saunders of Summerland.

Police said the highway surface was rendered treacherous by "severe icing conditions."

"You could hardly stand up-right on the road," an officer said, adding that the highway was closed to all traffic from 1:30 a.m. to about 8 a.m. today.

Girl Dies in Roaring Creek

NORTH VANCOUVER — (CP) — Pamela Kersey, 14, was drowned Wednesday in the tumbling waters of Mosquito Creek.

Her body was found five hours after she fell from a rock dam and was swept away.

Dolly McDonald and Pamela were on their way to the Kersey home when they came to the rain-swollen creek which runs from the mountains north of here down into the Vancouver harbor.

Dolly said she warned Pamela it would be dangerous to risk crossing the creek which was about six feet deep. She said Pamela started to cross the small dam, slipped and fell into the creek.

Searchers with lights found the girl's body about a half-mile below the dam.

Two Children Die in Nova Scotia Fire

NEW WATERFORD, N.S. (CP) — Two children, a four-year-old daughter and a five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Longphoe, were burned to death early today when their home was destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Longphoe rescued a year-old infant but flame drove her back when she attempted to reach the others. She suffered severe burns and a badly mangled right arm.

Supreme Court Says Closing Bylaw Invalid

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada today ruled that Montreal's early-closing bylaw is invalid.

The bylaw requiring restaurants serving liquor to close at 2 a.m. weekdays and midnight on Saturdays was challenged by Vie's Restaurant Incorporated.

The test case indirectly affected 50 other Montreal restaurants whose application for city restaurant permits were refused.

Vie's restaurant, licensed by the Quebec Liquor Commission, was refused a city restaurant permit in April, 1955.

The city refused to grant the permit on the ground the restaurant was violating the closing bylaw.

Essentially, the owners of Vie's claimed the bylaw was outside the city's powers, a contention that was denied by the lower courts in Quebec but upheld by the supreme court in a 5-3 decision.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A drink of rat poison in mistake for whiskey is blamed for the death of John Wallis, 69.

Police reports say Wallis mixed the rat poison in a glass Saturday night for use the next day, got out of bed early Sunday and drank the poison by mistake in the dark.

Wong Refuses New Apartment Offer

KELOWNA (CP) — Douglas Wong said today he will not accept an offer by a west-end Vancouver apartment owner to let him have an apartment he previously was refused because of his Chinese nationality.

The 24-year-old Mr. Wong was here to take his wife to Vancouver. She has resigned from a school teaching position in Kelowna because she is expecting a child.

Mr. Wong said he wants to find an apartment in Vancouver "on my own merit, without race or color or creed having any bearing."

Last Wednesday, he was handed a letter by caretaker G. W. Leversidge of the Everglades Apartments in Vancouver, stating he could not have a vacant suite there because of his nationality.

The owners, Tamas and Zena Bozyk, said Tuesday the decision was made by the caretaker and that they were arranging a meeting with Mr. Wong to let him have the suite if he still wanted it.

Drastic Increase in Scarlet Fever

VANCOUVER (CP) — Concern is expressed by health authorities over what they call a "drastic increase" in scarlet fever cases in Greater Vancouver.

There were 39 cases reported in October, 10 times the number for the same period last year.

$200 Million for Ticket to Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States hope of being the first country to rocket a man into space took an upward turn Wednesday — at a prospective cost of about $200,000,000.

The national aeronautics and space administration gave Rocketdyne, a division of North American Aviation, Inc., Canoga Park, Calif., the job of designing and developing a huge engine with up to 1,500,000 pounds of thrust.

"Performance flight rating tests of the engine will be based on unmanned vehicle applications," the announcement said, "but it may eventually propel manned satellites and space craft."

SUCH AN ENGINE could launch space payloads weighing several tons. The thrust of rockets already developed by the Russians has not been announced, but they claim to have shot up a 4,850-pound object to a height of 132 miles.

It is estimated the new super-rocket project will take four to six years. Rocketdyne already is working for the air force on an engine which develops at least 1,000,000 pounds of thrust.

Wednesday night, an intensive U.S. program designed to put a man into space was revealed by the space agency. Its name: Project Mercury.

Mercury would be the nickname of the first American hurled into space, several years from now at the earliest, said T. Keith Glennan, chief of the national aeronautics and space administration.

Resignations in Health Services

NANAIMO (CP)—Dr. E. W. R. Best, central Vancouver Island medical health officer, says resignations from government service are being accepted by the B.C. public health department.

Dr. Best told Nanaimo District 68 school board Wednesday that the health of 5,000 pupils in the school district is threatened by lack of medical health officers.

Dr. Best is leaving B.C. at the end of the year to become chief epidemiologist for the department of health and welfare in Ottawa.

He told the Nanaimo trustees he was to have been succeeded on Vancouver Island by Dr. C. J. G. Mackenzie of Nelson, but that Dr. Mackenzie has to direct two health units in the Kootenays due to the shortage of personnel.

Dr. Best said Dr. Mackenzie cannot see how he can take up duties at Nanaimo until at least one replacement is found in the interior.

The retiring medical health officer said "I regret to advise that the problem of resignations from government service, and the inability to attract qualified personnel, has now reached the ranks of public health physicians."

To Build New Gas Pipeline

OTTAWA (CP) — Champion Pipe Line Corporation of Montreal has applied to the board of transport commissioners for permission to build a natural gas pipeline from the Peace River area of northern British Columbia to Emerson, Man., on the United States border.

Little detail was given in the application, but evidently the company proposes to export gas to the U.S. through Emerson.

This is the outlet through which Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited hopes to ship Alberta gas to the U.S. in conjunction with its cross-Canada line.

Champion's application would have its line start at Farmington, B.C., south of Fort St. John, and pass near these communities.

Rycroft, Barrhead, Bon Accord, Fort Saskatchewan, Brudenheim, Vegreville, Vermilion, Paradise Valley, in Alberta; Carruthers, North Battleford, Warman, Young, Raymore, Melville, in Saskatchewan; Arrow River, Brandon, Morden, in Manitoba.

There would be branches from the Viking-Kinsella gas field to Vermilion and from the Provost gas area to Carruthers. These two gas fields are in east-central Alberta.

Four Years for Ottawa Bank Teller

OTTAWA (CP) — Bank teller Boyne Johnston today was sentenced to four years in penitentiary after pleading guilty Dec. 10 to the theft of $260,000, part of which financed a 17-day night-club and champagne spree in the United States.

Magistrate Glenn Strike, in sentencing the 25-year-old former employee of the Imperial Bank of Canada here, said this "is a very serious theft involving a very large sum of money."

"I have little sympathy for you. You were disloyal to your employer and your family," SPENT $12,500

During his brief taste of high living, Johnston spent $12,500 of the money he took from the bank. This has since been repaid by his family.

Johnston, former chief teller at the bank, vanished with the money Oct. 26. He was arrested Nov. 10 in the washroom of the Gay Paros nightclub in Denver, Colo.

After his arrest Johnston told police he wanted to "see what it was like" to have that much money.

His counsel told the court Dec. 10 that Johnston's wife intends to take up residence with him again after he has served his jail term.

Fewer Births, Deaths and Wedding Bells

OTTAWA (CP) — There were fewer births, marriages and deaths in November, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

In November the number of births declined to 36,590 from 38,057 a year earlier, marriages to 10,697 from 11,875 and deaths to 10,217 from 12,058.

In the January - November period births totalled 438,067 compared to 439,595 a year ago, marriages 125,056 to 126,349 and deaths 121,960 to 125,532.

Stores Will be Open Late on Mon., Tues.

Majority of Penticton stores will be open till nine o'clock Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week. On Wednesday evening all stores will close at 5:30 p.m. Earlier the Retail Merchants' Association had said Tuesday evening would be the only late-opening night of the week.

It was stated today, however, that chain food outlets, and the larger stores would definitely be open both Monday and Tuesday.

SEA FURY FAILS TO SUBDUE PATROL SHIP

U.S. coast guardsmen call this type of work "routine patrolling," but it's not recommended for the average yachtsman. The 52-foot patrol craft is engulfed by heavy seas off the Washington coast during a patrol and though the ship appears to be headed for disaster, she emerges without damage.

Witness Tells Court Of Brutal Knife Fight

OTTAWA (CP) — Little Glen Whelan sat horrified in his car as Robert O'Leary staggered by holding his chest.

"He was bleeding all over — in his chest, in his hands, in his eyes, his ears and his mouth."

"He tried to reach the car door, missed, and fell against the front fender."

"Then he rolled over, fell to the ground, and stayed there."

The frail 17-year-old testified at the opening Wednesday of the preliminary hearing of murder charges against James (Red) McDermott, 17, John Drain, 19, William Post, 19, his brother James, 16, and Henri Dupuis.

GANG SLAYING
They are accused of slaying 20-year-old O'Leary in a gang fight Nov. 23 on west-central Somerset Street following an argument in a restaurant.

A pathologist told the hearing O'Leary died of a vicious wound over the heart. He said an eight-inch steak knife found near the body could have been the weapon, and in his opinion the knife was driven in and twisted.

Whelan said he was driver of the car that carried the five accused and four others to the fight scene.

He identified McDermott as the youth who wielded the knife.

SHARPENS KNIFE
He said McDermott sharpened the knife on the chrome of the car radio as they drove in search of the car carrying the O'Leary faction.

The altercation began in Sandy's Restaurant when one of two teen-age girls accompanying O'Leary and Edward Champagne, 20, took offence at language used by the rival group.

The second girl said not to mind them, they're "just a bunch of punks."

That remark gave rise to a disturbance that led to the McDermott group's ejection from the restaurant.

Norma Innis, 17, one of the two girls, testified one of the youths said as they went out: "You're dead, man, dead."

GANG FOLLOWED
Whelan said he drove the McDermott group in pursuit when the O'Leary group left the restaurant.

Champagne, who testified earlier, had said he, O'Leary and two other youths went hunting for the McDermott group.

"We knew they would get us one at a time because we'd heard about their reputation," he told the court. "When you expect trouble you don't wait."

DOWNTOWN MEETING
Whelan said he and nine others got into the car and started roaming streets in search of O'Leary and company, until they finally pulled up behind them at Bronson and Somerset.

He said the four youths in the other car "came running at us."

The fighters were dispersed by the arrival of a patrolling policeman, who found O'Leary — whose right arm had been broken playing football and was in a cast — lying bleeding to death face down in the gutter.

NOTHING TO DO WITH B.C. NET DEBT

Power Commission Financing Outlined

VICTORIA (CP) — A government proposal to refinance certain British Columbia Power Commission borrowings "has nothing to do with government policy to extinguish the net debt of the province, the Shrum royal commission into the power commission was told Wednesday.

J. V. Fisher, deputy minister of finance and government economic adviser, also said there has never been any suggestion of using a trust fund to subsidize the power commission by giving it a low rate of interest on its borrowings.

Mr. Fisher was testifying before the three-man commission under the chairmanship of Dr. Gordon Shrum of the University of B.C.

In emphasis of his trust fund denial, Mr. Fisher said: "Any other inference impugns my honor... and I don't like it."

Earlier, Ian R. Mills, power commission director of finance, said the commission never has been behind and is always up to date in its repayment to the government "on loans."

"There is nothing in default and it is suggested this loan or borrowing be refinanced although it seems the (present) securities are at a very favorable rate of interest," he said.

Mr. Fisher said the power commission's net debt to the government as of April 1, this year was $26,306,072 and that annual debt charges were $1,540,373.

He said that the last date of outstanding and unpaid provincial direct obligations included in the provincial gross debt is 1977.

"Therefore, on or before that date it will be necessary for the province to have either cash or negotiable securities in its sinking funds to repay outstanding debt," he said.

"The current position is that, instead of cash securities, the province has a non-negotiable book entry."

"Failure to fund outstanding cash advances by the commission will have the effect of requiring the province either to borrow or to appropriate revenues in 1977 to then pay the outstanding cash advances."

Mr. Fisher said one refinancing plan proposed by the government worked out to an annual fixed cash debt charge of $1,325,447—less than the $1,540,373 the commission now pays.

He said that in effect the power commission would be paying the same number of dollars, but will be paying for a longer period than under the existing plan.

"I don't see where there is anything much involved that reasonable people can't resolve," he said.

He also presented a five-page report which he said was "to answer irresponsible allegations to the effect that the payment of certain broker's commissions in the purchase of trustee investments is either a breach of trust, evidence of ineptness, or the unposition of a cost factor to the B.C. Power Commission's operations."

He said that if outside lenders learned that trust funds and local lenders were getting a lower rate they would boycott.

"Failure by British Columbia funds concurrently to purchase on terms applicable to similar accounts would create suspicion and buyers' resistance," he said.

"Any suggestion that, in order to escape the payment of a broker's commission, trust funds be denied market buying and be compelled to accumulate funds for specific direct buying from instrumentalities is both impracticable as well as irresponsible."

The five pupils took part in several little skits and songs which were greatly enjoyed.

Text books and coloring books were on display and some of the work done by the children. Mrs. J. B. Liebert, teacher, explained the purpose of the various types of teaching. Mrs. Liebert is assisted part of the time by Mrs. Bryce Farrow. Also assisting Wednesday morning was Mrs. Gerry Halquist, a substitute.

Mrs. Liebert, Mr. Liebert and their children leave Thursday for Vancouver and will fly to England for Christmas with relatives.

John Cooke, principal of Summerland Elementary schools, was among those attending.

Yule Shopping Compares Well To Last Year

OLIVER—The Herald checked with a number of the business houses along the main street Wednesday afternoon to find out how the pre-Christmas shopping compared with that of last year.

From the information received, it seems that business is holding up well in comparison. With a week still to go practically all the merchants contacted stated that sales were equal to those of last year and late shoppers, they thought, would push them slightly ahead.

PROTEST MINE CLOSINGS

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuters)—Delegates representing 96,000 miners met Wednesday to endorse a campaign against the closure of six pits in south Wales. Will Fawcett, area president of the National Union of Mineworkers, said the campaign will include public meetings and demonstrations. The board administering Britain's nationalized coal mines proposed to shut 36 pits throughout the country.

A three-man conciliation board unanimously recommended union security for a trial period, a reduced work week from 60 hours to 54 with no loss of pay, a three-cent hourly increase immediately and another two cents in 12 months.

The present basic hourly rate is $1.05.

IRAQ-CHINA TRADE

BAGHDAD, Iraq (Reuters)—A 12-man trade delegation from Communist China arrived here Wednesday and is expected to sign a trade pact with Iraq. Iraq announced China had bought 20,000 tons of dates.

Butler said in his defence he was interested only in accumulating stock and maintaining an orderly market. He said he did not know he was involved in wash-trading and added that he interpreted wash-trading as an "unnecessary sale."

Special prosecutor R. F. Wilson said more than $1,000,000 was lost by investors when Aeonic stock plunged. He said investigation into the collapse revealed one of the largest manipulations of stock in the history of the TSE.

The trial of Clifford J. Butler, former general manager of Aeonic, and Joseph Bendry, former president, both of Montreal lasted almost seven weeks. No date for a new trial was set.

The charges were laid after Aeonic stock dropped about $10 a share in one day on the Toronto Stock Exchange in August, 1957. Wash-trading is an operation by which the same person buys and sells stock in an effort to stimulate market activity.

St. Edward's Bells Ring in Christmas

OLIVER — To be heard more frequently throughout Oliver and district now that the Christmas season is approaching, will be the bells of St. Edward's Church peeling carols and Christmas music.

The bells of St. Edward's are among only four peals of eight in British Columbia, the other three being in Victoria and Vancouver. They were a gift of a parishioner and were dedicated on Thanksgiving day, 1952, to the memory of the pioneer fruit growers of the district.

The bells were cast in Whitechapel, London and shipped to Oliver by the same firm which cast the bells of Westminster Abbey and more recently those for the Church of St. Clement Danes in the Strand in London. This church was completely destroyed by bombs during the Second World War and the rebuilding of it has just been completed conforming with the original architecture of Sir Christopher Wren.

The St. Edward's carillonneur is A. J. Bertram.

Kelowna Tops Oliver in J.C. Speech Tourney

OLIVER — A highlight of the bi-monthly meeting of the Oliver Jaycees Tuesday night at the Rempel Hotel was the public speaking contest between Kelowna and Oliver.

Kelowna took home the trophy which Oliver had just recently won from Pentiction when Judge Roly Jones declared Frank Williams of Kelowna the winner over Pete Horkoff of Oliver. Subject for the speeches was "That government should be of Laws rather than of People."

The quality of both the speeches indicated that the contestants had given it considerable thought. Another feature of the evening was a showing by Verne Huntley of color slides depicting the delivery of supplies to the radar system in Canada's Far North. The winner of the lucky cheque raffle was Dr. Art White.

Jaycee officials report that the Christmas light-up campaign is in full swing and that entry blanks may be obtained from club members.

Fined for Not Returning Lost Tooling Leather

Mrs. Helen E. Frederickson, 553 Papineau Street, Pentiction, was fined $20 and costs by Magistrate H. J. Jennings in Pentiction Police Court yesterday afternoon when she was found guilty of a charge of theft by finding.

Court was told that Mrs. Gertie Butler of Summerland lost a piece of tooling leather in one of the washrooms at the Three Gables Hotel around November 17. Mrs. Frederickson was found guilty of finding the leather, which was identified with a Bennett's Hobby Shop sticker, and not returning it.

Crown prosecutor was Peter Vanderhoop. H. A. Callaghan was defence counsel.

"Auntie" Partridge Funeral Saturday

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon from Naramata United Church for Mrs. Emma "Auntie" Partridge, 82, a well known resident of this area for the past 28 years, who died in Pentiction General Hospital, Dec. 15.

Born in Bournemouth, England, Mrs. Partridge lived in Canada for 50 years coming to Naramata from Saltcoats, Sask., where she had resided for 32 years.

She was predeceased by her husband in 1936 at Naramata. Mrs. Partridge was active in ladies' work circles particularly the United Church women's auxiliary.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. W. (Gladys) Cairn-Duff of Naramata; a son, Hedley, in Saltcoats, Sask.; four grandchildren; four great grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. M. E. Partridge of Naramata, and Mrs. L. Watts in England.

Rev. R. Stobie will officiate at the funeral, and interment will be in the Naramata Cemetery. Roselawn Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

PROMENADE

Square Dances in Christmas Theme

By D. G.

There will be two square dance parties in the area this Saturday, Dec. 20. In Pentiction, the Wheelers Club are sponsoring a "Christmas Formal" in the high school cafeteria. A turkey supper will be served and everybody is welcome.

And then in Summerland, the Pairs and Squares are having their annual Christmas party, to which all square dancers are cordially invited. We have not been informed as to the identity of the emcee, but presume that he (or she) will be a member of the Pairs and Squares. Anyway, we have it on pretty good authority that a real bang-up party is being planned, and we know from past experience that this club never does anything by halves. Callers are invited to bring their records and help with the festivities. Refreshments will be served by the club.

TWO AFTER CHRISTMAS

As this will probably be the last "Promenade" before Christmas, due to the writer being in the throes of preparations for that event, square dancers are reminded that there are two parties right after Christmas.

The Kalaminka Squares of Vernon are inviting all square dancers and their families to a Boxing Day dance, starting at 2:00 p.m., at an appropriate hour, after which dancing will continue until 7. Visitors are invited to bring along some turkey sand-viches, or cakes or what have you. And don't worry about baby sitters — bring the kids along. Emcee for this party is Les Boyer.

And another party to look forward to is Peachland's month-end dance on Saturday, Dec. 27, in Peachland's Athletic Hall. This will be a "low level" party and a special invitation is extended to both beginners and advanced dancers. Refreshments will be served by the Totem Twirlers, and the emceeing will be done by Chuck Inglis and Ray Frederickson.

NEW YEAR'S DANCE

Plans are all set for the big New Year's Eve Square Dance Frolic to be held in the Kaledon Hall, sponsored by the Peach City Promenaders of Pentiction, and starting at 8 p.m., Dec. 31.

Emcee Les Boyer has arranged a very attractive program of squares and rounds, and there will be fun and favors for all. After 1959 has been appropriately ushered in, a delicious supper will be served by the host club, and then dancing will continue until 1. Get your tickets early from any member of the executive or the writer of this column, whose phone number is 2695. Just phone and tickets will be reserved for you.

A Happy Christmas, everybody!

150,000 Boxes Apples For Cider This Season

VERNON — B.C. Fruit Processors are expecting to use 150,000 boxes of apples to produce 600,000 cases of sparkling cider this season. This should bring about $50 a ton for the apples to growers.

That was the prediction of Ian Greenwood, assistant general manager of B.C. Fruit Processors, at the annual meeting of the Northern District Council of the B.C. Fruit Growers Association.

"We may be shooting high," Mr. Greenwood said. "But indications are good and already 25,000 cases have been packed."

In a review of Fruit Processors' cider venture, which started in a small way two years ago, Mr. Greenwood said that his organization is trying to develop "specialty products" which will return more to the growers on sub-standard apples than the process of converting them to apple juice.

The original cider produced two years ago was put out in cans, but did not prove satisfactory, he said.

Last year 75,000 cases of bottled cider were produced, using a different formula, and these were completely sold out.

The second batch of cider met with such a favorable reception that hopes were raised that the beverage might be marketed outside British Columbia.

EXPORT PROBLEMS

The cider is now on sale in Alberta and plans are also underway for possible sale in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, Interest in the product has also been shown in Washington.

Mr. Greenwood said that problems of export might increase the difficulties of sales in the United States.

He claimed that the product is not to be compared with beer, and is really more in the white wine or champagne category. The present price had been set to provide a good return to the grower, making it slightly more expensive than beer.

Mr. Greenwood revealed that Okanagan cider is manufactured by a special process which is not used elsewhere, and he said that Fruit Processors are hopeful of getting a patent on the process, in the name of the Summerland Experimental Farm, where it was developed.

By use of assembly line practices at the Princeton Brewery, where the cider is manufactured, it is possible to complete fermentation and bottling in 10 days — something not feasible with traditional methods.

$75,000 EQUIPMENT

Manufacture of the beverage in a brewery was the logical solution to fermentation problems, he said, because the brewery has most of the necessary equipment.

About $75,000 in new equipment was purchased by the brewery to handle cider manufacture, and this money will be paid back by Fruit Processors over a period of 10 years.

In the meantime, Processors own sole rights to the manufacturing process and the product itself, he said.

Success of the cider in B.C. had led to interest from eastern breweries in cider making, and it is possible that eastern concerns might be licensed to manufacture the product in future, with returns to Fruit Processors in the form of royalties.

A similar arrangement exists with apple juice which is packed under the Sun-Rype label in eastern Canada. Pack last year under this arrangement was 14,000 cases, which jumped to 25,000 cases this year, Mr. Greenwood stated.

He emphasized, however, that marketing of cider was something which would have to be reviewed early in the new year.

STRANGE NEW FIELD

Promotion of the new product is most difficult for Fruit Processors because they are in a strange field where competition is keen and regulations are many and varied, Mr. Greenwood admitted.

He said his organization "got its knuckles rapped" for issuing a recipe booklet for the new cider, which transgressed the regulations of the Liquor Control Board.

But generally the government has given "excellent co-operation" on the marketing of the product, allowing a very reasonable mark-up on sales, he said.

Drivers are described as being nervous about driving over high bridges that have no sidewalks, veering into other traffic lanes and other drivers. Seems they'd rather veer over on to sidewalks.

MacPhee Report Parley May be in Pentiction

Pentiction was suggested as the probable site of any special B.C. FGA convention that may be called to consider the MacPhee report on the B.C. tree fruit industry, in discussion at the southern district council meeting of the BCFGA.

Eric Tait of Summerland, reporting for the central executive, told the meeting that a special convention or general meeting to consider the report was proposed at some date following the annual convention at Vernon, Jan. 20. Time and place of this meeting will be decided at the convention but it will probably be at Pentiction in late March or early April.

The extra meeting is necessary because the MacPhee report will not be available before Jan. 15, too late to be considered in detail at the regular convention.

G. J. Armstrong, of Keremeos-Cawston local was elected chairman of the southern district council, succeeding J. Tillar of Naramata. H. Corbishley of Pentiction was voted in as vice-chairman succeeding E. Hack of Oliver, and J. King, Keremeos-Cawston, was named secretary-treasurer, succeeding G. Bowering of Naramata.

A. G. DesBrisay of Pentiction, reporting for B.C. Fruit Processors, said that 150,000 gallons of juice or half the expected volume had already been sent to the cider-processing plant at Princeton for this year's cider pack.

Gordon Wight of Oliver, B.C. Tree Fruits board of governors, said apple sales were satisfactory, and in some instances ahead of last year. Prices on some varieties and grades had improved slightly.

All current officers of the board of governors, central executive, and B.C. Fruit Processors board of directors were nominated for re-election with the addition of J. Coe, Pentiction, for the board of governors. R. Duncan of Pentiction for the central executive and J. B. M. Clarke of Keremeos-Cawston for the B.C. Fruit Board.

TALK OF THE VALLEY

TRUE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Clarke's Building Supplies Ltd. of Pentiction is one of the local businesses adopting a refreshing plan for Christmas giving. Following the example of certain coast firms, they have, by mutual agreement of all personnel, decided to cut out the exchange of presents among staff members and are donating a sum of money to the Salvation Army. The amount of the contribution runs into three figures.

SOME SHORTAGE

Fifteen years ago there was no unemployment. Employers were looking for men. In the Thursday, Dec. 9, 1943 issue of the Herald we found the report of a meeting of the Keremeos-Cawston local of the BCFGA. Most important topic discussed was the labor question. BCFGA members drafted a resolution asking those in authority to release Italian prisoners of war to aid the growers.

Helping the Unfortunate Would be a Better Cause

As if the United States has not enough to worry about, an American publication, Aviation Week, goes to considerable trouble to report that the Russians have been flying a nuclear-powered bomber for at least two months. The magazine predicts that the Soviets are planning a non-stop non-refueling flight several times around the world.

There is no reason to doubt the report. The Americans have been seeking to develop such a craft also. Its efforts in this direction are by no means finished.

We can understand that the Americans would be deeply worried that Russia has scored another first. Aviation Week says the announcement comes as a "sickening shock". The worry will continue so long as the United States and Russia are locked in the competition for supremacy. And this helps to explain the tremendous pressure that America has exerted to become the first to reach the moon.

The propaganda value in the announcement, however, is not likely to be as high as the Americans expect. The people of the world are becoming inured to the boasting of the bigger nations of the world. Sputniks, pioneers, moon rockets, nuclear planes! So what, say the hungry millions.

Neither the United States nor the Soviet Union can win friends among the uncommitted nations in this manner. What we should be doing is helping them, much more earnestly than we yet have, to eke out an existence above the starvation level. Perhaps then they will be impressed by the material glories of these bigger powers.

Good Example Needed

One of the more bewildering aspects of city council's snow clearing program lies in dirty, semi-frozen heaps along the curbs of almost every street in town.

While the works department is to be commended for its fine job on Main Street, it is certainly to be criticized for its failure to clean the snow from the gutters on the dozens of well-used side streets throughout the city.

Parking a car on any one of these streets has been a hazardous and uncomfortable operation since the heavy snow-fall. In our opinion the hazard and the discomfort have been quite unnecessary.

Threats have been breathed against householders who fail to clean the sidewalks in front of their homes. Civic obligations have been pointed out, the rules of civic law stated — but council has failed to set a good example.

Should the present thaw continue there may be little need within the next few days for anything to be done. But should it freeze again, or snow even more, our curb-sides on streets well used by parking motorists should be cleaned, and then kept clean for as long as the frozen snow problem exists.

The Appeal of Christmas

Christmas, with its timeless appeal to the best in human nature and the reminder that it is God's purpose and will which must prevail on earth, has deep significance in Canada. In this country of vast distances, it is the season of the ingathering of families, a return to the rooftree, and participation in the sharing and giving which centre in the homes of the land. There can be nowhere any better antidote to the materialism of a technological era than in the realization that it is the things of the spirit that retain an everlasting value.

From the humblest log hut in the backwoods through every strata of the nation it is the same feeling that prevails. The gentle story of the Christ Child has in it no account of possessions or of differing degrees in mankind. It is first the story of a home with all of the love, sharing and unselfishness that one associates with the word.

Wreck the homes of a nation and there would be no nation left. So this return to the home to experience there the timeless unchanging values which no money can purchase is among the most deeply rooted instincts of human kind.

In Canada this year it will not be different. By plane, train, boat, and where need be by dog-team, there will be family gatherings across the breadth of the land. Christmas observances may vary through enrichment of the nation by many new settlers, but the spirit behind them will be the same. In a land mercifully at peace and with a great deal to be thankful for, Canadians will also see to it that no one need go hungry or neglected on Christmas Day. There is enough for all, and the will to ensure that no strangers are left outside the door. And once again, will come that strange revelation that it is in giving we receive.

UNITED KINGDOM OPINION

U.K. By-Election Significant One

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)
Correspondent for The Herald

LONDON — The by-election in the Harrow constituency is one that will bear watching. It may have a very definite bearing on when a general election will be held in Great Britain. So it is going to be fought with gloves off, with both Conservatives and Socialists making a supreme effort to win the seat.

Contrary to expectations, there will be no Liberal candidate in the field. In a rather weak statement, the Liberals have announced that they are going to hold back a candidate until the general election. So the Conservatives and Socialists will have a straight fight, as they did in 1955 election, when they lost by 3,622 votes.

GAITSKELL CONFIDENT
In an interview I had with Hugh Gaitskell, Socialist leader and James Griffiths, member of the Socialist shadow cabinet, I found them highly optimistic about the Harrow election. They feel they have more than an even chance of winning. They are certainly going to make a supreme effort to take this seat away from the Tories. But Mr. Gaitskell will not speak in the election. I asked him if he would be going to the constituency to speak, and his answer rather surprised me, knowing ing how party-leaders take part in similar elections in Canada. "I never speak in by-elections," said Mr. Gaitskell. "If I did, I would never get any rest. But I will send the candidate a letter. Additional reason for the Socialist optimism—in the local borough council elections this year, the Socialists won a majority of the seats in Harrow East."

Talking with Mr. Gaitskell, I learned that the British parliament will present a united front in opposition to the western powers withdrawing from Berlin. In reply to my questions as to his party's attitude on the Berlin situation, he said: "The western powers must stay in Berlin until there is a reunification of Germany. Parliament will present a united front on this obvious threat from Khrushchev. We must stand together. After all, there are some issues on which we are in agreement with the government, and this is one of them."

LONDON PEOPLE AROUSED
The people of London, indeed of all Britain, are not easily aroused on contentious matters. But they are stirred up to a high pitch of indignation at the London Transport Executive and the bus employees. When the bus services were reduced, many routes being discontinued as an economy measure, the bus crews decided on a "work to rule" policy. They decided to stand on their rights under their agreement, regardless of the effect of this on the travelling public.

From a public standpoint, the results have been such as to arouse great indignation. Long queues of people wait for buses much longer than formerly. Some areas have practically no service. Indeed, the council of Finchley has started a free bus service for its residents because the regular buses have been discontinued.

From personal experience, I can understand the violent public reaction. Three times in one day, I had to wait from 25 to 30 minutes for a bus, at a stop which formerly had a bus every 12 minutes. One occasion, when the bus did come along, several of those waiting could not board it because all seats were occupied, and the maximum of five standing passengers had been reached. The comments of my fellow-sufferers were not fit to print.

SHOREDITCH ELECTION
In a by-election in Shoreditch, the Socialist candidate had a majority of 6,995 votes over the Conservative, a drastic drop from the 16,284 majority in the 1955 election. Chief reason was that the total vote dropped from 61.6 per cent in 1955 to 25.4 per cent in the recent contest. Apparently the Socialist voters looked on the result as a foregone conclusion and did not take the trouble to vote in large numbers. Significant fact is that the Socialist vote declined by 10,070 votes, while the Tory vote declined by 5,997. Tories take comfort from the result, claiming it shows a lot of people in this Socialist constituency are satisfied with the government and its record.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH
"Lois, the Girl from Canada, Scores New Triumph" reads a heading in the Daily Mail after her first concert in England by Lois Marshall after her triumphant European tour. Singing in the Albert Hall with the Royal Choral Society of Elgar's oratorio "The Kingdom" she achieved a glowing performance. The Mail's critic wrote "In Russia last month she received a standing ovation wherever she went. Last night I found out why. She has those priceless qualities of sincerity and dramatic intensity. Her voice—better produced than when she last sang here—showed a dark-tinted radiance."

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Election Keeps Press Guessing

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Britain's flappable press has been thrown into a high state of excitement by an unflappable prime minister.

When Prime Minister Macmillan playfully hinted to the opposition in the Commons this week that the next general election "may be sooner than you think," several newspapers were galvanized into a series of calculations designed to show that the election would be held in February or March.

The remark, made while Macmillan was experiencing considerable difficulty dealing with questions resurrecting the Suez Canal crisis of two years ago, was the reddest of red herrings. It is a measure of the prime minister's political acumen that almost without exception the listening journalists set off in full cry.

SUEZ FORGOTTEN
The next day the politically potent Suez question was almost lost in the welter of excited election prognostications. Theoretically, Macmillan can call a general election any time between now and May, 1960, when the Conservative government's five-year term expires.

But a number of factors, mainly economic, make it highly unlikely he will give serious consideration to a late winter or early spring appeal to the country.

BUDGET SIGNPOST
Barring the emergence of an issue of overriding importance, mid-May would appear to be the earliest reasonable date with September or October other likely choices.

The budget, a traditional vehicle for offering vote-winning tidbits to the electorate, isn't expected before mid-April. Government departments have not yet started on detailed preparation of their estimates and there is no indication they are under pressure to do so.

A more important factor, and one much in the minds of government strategists, is the unemployment problem. The number of Britons out of work is close to the 50,000 mark — high by British standards — and government experts predict the figure will increase to more than 600,000 by the end of February.

UPTURN EXPECTED
The government hopes that recent pump-priming measures will begin to bolster the country's internal economy in the spring. But it has been told by its economic advisers that the effect of the measures will probably not be known before the summer.

Unless the economists are proved unduly pessimistic about the speed of recovery, the government may well delay a decision about the election until late June or early July. The summer holiday lull then would put the date off at least until September.

DIVERSION

One of the policemen around town asked that you be reminded that one for the road could mean two beers.

Far more welcome than a mild cigarette would be a mild commercial about a cigarette.

Horticultural query: What do you call those flowers that only show up in baskets at the grand opening of meat markets, loan companies or insurance offices and nowhere else?

OTTAWA REPORT

New Challenge In Air Travel

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Scientific development has brought us to one of history's sensational turning points in the progress of mankind. The perfection of large, fast airliners is putting air travel into direct cost competition with the cheapest long-distance rail travel.

This development, providing abundant cheap and fast air transportation, presents Canada with a challenge which, seized courageously, could bring greater advances in prosperity and living conditions to us than to any other people on earth.

Our government perceives this opportunity and, through the national aviation policy, it is leading us to accept this exciting challenge.

Our national airport program is reaching its construction peak one year before the big new jet airliners will come into widespread use. This means that the air terminal buildings at most of our big airports will be constructed on the clever new Canadian design, incorporating the doughnut-shaped "island aerogates" specially created for the big new jets.

At the same time, after a hectic decade of progress, airliner design has now reached a plateau, where no significant changes are foreseen in the next several years.

Thus our new airports will remain fully serviceable and up-to-date for many years to come.

CANADA LEADS WORLD

Our national air line, Trans-Canada, will be re-equipped with three types of the new airliners, Douglas DC-8 aircraft, with Rolls Royce jet engines, will each carry 127 passengers on routes with long stages, Vickers Vikings, with Rolls Royce turbo-propeller engines, will each carry 96 passengers on medium-stage routes. Vickers Viscounts will fly the routes calling for short hops.

With the acquisition of the $6,000,000 DC-8s and the $2,500,000 Vikings, added to the present Viscounts, the Trans-Canada Air Lines fleet will be all four-engin-ed and all turbine-powered by 1961. It will be the first international airline in the world to achieve this status in the change-over from old-fashioned piston-engined planes.

T.C.A. has lowered its fares in the past ten years, while bus fares have doubled and rail fares have jumped 42 per cent. The huge aerial transporters of the Jet Age, flashing along the cost-free airways five miles overhead, may permit fares even cheaper than today. They will certainly bring us wider use of air freight, and hence better living and better markets in the realm of our perishable products.

GAINS AND ECONOMIES
Timetables and fare charts reveal the "win" of the swelling switch to air travel.

Today a crack transcontinental express train speeds from this capital to our west coast metropolis of Vancouver in 68 hours. But airlines make the same journey in only 12 hours. And the cost of that trip by first-class air travel, including free meals on the flight, is no more than the cost of the three days and three nights train journey in a "roomette" with meals and tips.

Two years from now, a jetliner, carrying 125 passengers at the staggering speed of 550 miles an hour, could make that trip thirteen times while the express train completes a single journey. This is a greater advance in travel than the iron horse itself achieved over the covered wagon.

This immense improvement in the performance of the airliner, coupled with the new low charge for basic air transportation with-out the trimmings, dovetails perfectly into our national aviation policy. Together, they will make Canada the country which can benefit the most from the Jet Age.

Not only will the cheap and fast travel slash the immense distances of our ten provinces; it will make possible the unlocking of the great Arctic vault, in which we hold treasures probably unmatched in the world.

Helpful Diet Advice Given

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

You need bulk in your diet to maintain regularity. Just about everyone knows that.

But you don't always need roughage. Even if you do, these foods can be just as appetizing as anything else on the dinner plate.

SOME TIPS

Let me pass on a few tips about regularity diets that you probably don't know.

For one thing, you may require either rough or gentle bulk, whichever your doctor advises. Bulk, you see, comes from a liberal consumption of liquids plus the cellulose of foods.

LOTS OF ROUGHAGE

Cellulose can be found in great abundance in fruits and vegetables and any bulk diet, rough or bland, is composed chiefly of these items.

Moreover, some of these fruits and vegetables, notably apples, oranges, carrots and beets, also give you pectin. Pectin forms smooth, soothing bulk by absorbing a considerable amount of fluids.

When roughage is needed, eating raw or cooked fruits and vegetables quite often does the trick.

BLAND DIET

For the bland diet, the vegetables can be puréed and fruits can be stewed. They give you bulk and are tasty at the same time.

Whole grains also contain considerable cellulose and should be eaten frequently. In addition to cellulose, they contain vitamin B complex.

To make sure that all of this cellulose adds up to a lot of bulk, you must consume between eight and ten glasses of fluids per day.

OTHER SOURCES

Of course, all of this doesn't have to be water. You will get some of the needed liquids by drinking milk, coffee, tea and soft drinks. You will also get much of the fluid you need from the foods you eat.

So it isn't necessary to drink water all day long to insure an adequate intake of liquids.

TASTES GOOD

I'm not much of a cook, but dietitians tell me that you can make these bulk foods very appetizing. For example, they say you can core apples, stuff them with dates and bake them in orange juice.

Or you can serve boiled beets in a sauce of orange juice combined with butter, sugar and cornstarch.

Why, that sounds good enough to eat!

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M.E.M.: What is a "blocked" back and what treatment is required for this condition?

Answer: This is not a medical term. The colloquialism is unknown to me.

Britain Reviews Defence Policies

By KEN METHERAL

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Britain's defence chiefs have launched an intensive review of their long-term policies because of the flood of new information being made available to them from the United States.

One result may be a slowing down in the wholesale switch to missiles implied in the last two defence white papers. This would allow the United Kingdom to devote a greater portion of her defence budget to the development and stockpiling of conventional weapons.

Defence Minister Duncan Sandys and his advisers are known to be surprised and delighted at the speed with which the U.S. has thrown open the doors of its nuclear cupboard since the two countries reached agreement last August on the sharing of defence secrets.

REDUCE COSTS
British experts have already been given access to weapons and techniques they didn't know existed. The extent of co-operation taking place is giving rise to hopes Britain may be able to make substantial reductions in the cost of her own research program by eliminating duplication in the efforts of the two countries.

"We would be bloody fools if we didn't revise our thinking in the light of the wealth of new information now available to us," a defence spokesman said.

It is by no means a one-sided exchange. The U.S. is understood to be impressed by the amount of research and development work British scientists have achieved with limited resources. Considerable joint research now is under way and particular attention is being paid to British ideas about guidance systems for rockets.

At present, Britain's offensive potential is based on her strategic force of V-bombers—Valiants, Victors and Vulcans—but boosted by the land-based American missile Thor.

MISSILE SWITCH

Until the current review started, forward defence planning envisaged a fairly rapid replacement of manned bombers by advanced British missiles.

Sandys and his colleagues on the defence committee now are considering whether land-based missile requirements for the next 10 years or so should be scaled down or cut out altogether. Some advisers are understood to favor a policy under which Britain would rely on manned bombers for the next decade, then switch straight to missiles.

Most of Britain's long-term missile research has been devoted to land-based weapons, such as the Blue Streak rocket using liquid propellants. But the planners are impressed by U.S. development work on the solid-fuelled Polaris missile, designed to be fired from a submarine.

This has special attractions for an island power such as Britain. It both maintains the traditional role of the navy in the country's defence and does away with the need for costly and vulnerable rocket-launching bases on land.

NEW BOMBER?

Understandably, one of the chief advocates of a policy based on the Polaris missile and nuclear-powered submarines is Admiral of the Fleet Earl Mountbatten of Burma, who many observers believe will eventually succeed Marshal of the RAF Sir William Dickson as chief of the defence staff.

But the handsome, blunt-speaking earl has lost his backroom fight to force a modified version of the navy's NA-39 carrier-based jet fighter-bomber on the RAF as a replacement for the Canberra bomber. The defence committee has accepted the RAF's view that the NA-39 is not suitable for its purposes and now is considering the advisability of authorizing development of a new supersonic bomber and transport aircraft known only as Operational Requirement 339.

If, as seems likely, the defence committee decides to delay a final decision on the type of missile to be ultimately selected pending further development work on both sides of the Atlantic, the RAF will stand a good chance of getting its supersonic plane.

All three services will probably be asked to reduce expenditures next year to help finance research, now eating up about one-third of the defence budget, which this year totalled £1,435,000,000 ($4,018,000,000).

Growing Interest in United Church W. A.

SUMMERLAND — Since the adoption of circles in the United Church Women's Federation, it is thought that more members are taking an active part in the operation of the WA and other church activities. This was the report at the annual meeting held this week in the United Church hall when it was noted that there were 84 paid-up members in the organization. Circles were formed a year ago as an experiment and it has proved to be most successful, the meeting decided.

Entertainment was given by the Melodiers, a group of ladies, who told the Christmas story in scripture and song. Mrs. James Mayne was the narrator and Mrs. L. L. Fudge, accompanist. Others in the group are Mrs. Vera Foster, Mrs. A. J. McKenzie, Miss Dorcen Tait, Mrs. G. A. Laidlaw, Mrs. Howard Milne, Mrs. K. L. Boothe, Mrs. John Holman and Mrs. Flora Bergstrom.

ent, was in the chair and the secretary, Mrs. S. Blazek, gave the year's report which indicated that the society had helped to support the Burnaby Girls' Home, Crease Clinic Apparel Shop; the First United Welfare Industries, Vancouver, clothing for Korea, LTS at Naramata, the junior choir, the Sunday school and the board of stewards.

One hundred and sixty hospital and home visits were made during the past year and 150 cards were sent to the sick and to the shut-in of the congregation.

Mrs. John Holman was re-elected as president and other officers elected are: 1st vice-president, Mrs. W. H. Durick; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Stewart; secretary, Mrs. S. Blazek; treasurer, Mrs. S. W. J. Feltham.

Bazaar and Tea by Rebekahs at Oliver

OLIVER — The Golden Heart Rebekah Lodge No. 60 held a successful bazaar and tea on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Gilbert Eraut was convener for the busy afternoon affair.

The lucky winner on the turkey raffle was John Bork. The door prize, a cake made and donated by Mrs. James Brown, was won by Mrs. Moriarity.

The Elks' Hall was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Eraut and her committee. In charge of the various stalls were, home baking, Mrs. O. Lavik and Mrs. Earl Law; sewing table, Mrs. B. Charlish and Mrs. G. Eraut; and tea in charge of Mrs. Stan Reynolds.

The lovely hand made animals and dolls were made by Mrs. E. B. Preston and were quickly sold. All proceeds go to the lodge's charitable program.

St. Saviour's Guild Elects 1959 Officers

Afternoon Guild to St. Saviour's Anglican Church elected Mrs. T. H. Osborne president for the 1959 term at the December meeting at the home of retiring president, Mrs. Harold Lupton, Townley Street.

Mrs. Trevor Punnett was chosen vice-president; Mrs. George Coombs, secretary; Mrs. R. F. Campbell, treasurer, and Mrs. J. T. Young and Mrs. T. P. Piddock, counsellors.

Considerable discussion at a short business session conducted by Mrs. Lupton dealt with the proposed purchase of a stained glass memorial window for St. Saviour's church. A parish fund has been established for this purpose, and it will be the Guild's main objective next year to create renewed interest among parishioners in an endeavor to increase the fund.

The meeting adjourned for a social hour and refreshments served by Mrs. Lupton.

Mrs. W. E. Guerard invited members to hold their January 7 meeting at her home at 203 Edmonton Avenue at 2:30 p.m.

If you bake at home, everyone will love this big, round, deep and delicious frosted maple coffee cake! Make it with Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast, and you'll serve it often!

Frosted Maple Coffee Cake

1. Scald 1 cup milk. Stir in ½ cup lightly-packed brown sugar, 1½ teaspoons salt, ½ cup butter or margarine. Cool to lukewarm.
2. Measure, measure into large bowl. ½ cup lukewarm water. 2 teaspoons granulated sugar. Sprinkle with contents of 2 envelopes Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, 3 well-beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon maple flavoring, 2½ cups once-sifted all-purpose flour, ½ cup chopped walnuts. Work and beat until smooth and elastic. Work in additional 3 cups (about) once-sifted all-purpose flour.
3. Turn out on floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour.
4. Punch down dough. Turn out on lightly-floured board and knead until smooth. Divide dough into 2 equal portions; pat each portion into a 7-inch round and place in a greased 8-inch round layer cake pan. Grease top. Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk—about ¾ hour. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375°, about 30 minutes. Turn out on cake racks, top-side up and cool slightly. Spread with the following Maple Frosting and decorate, if desired with walnut halves. Measure 1 cup once-sifted icing sugar into a small bowl; stir in 3 drops vanilla, ½ teaspoon maple flavoring and sufficient cream (about 4 teaspoons) to make an icing of spreading consistency. Yield—2 large coffee cakes.

HOLIDAY FOODS

Serve Sparkling Cider With Intriguing Apple Cocktail Pizzas

Sparkling cider and intriguing apple cocktail pizzas are ideal Okanagan Valley refreshments to serve during the festive season. The bubbling cider can be a perfect complement to the holiday dinner, or equally tempting when served with cheese and crackers or other "finger" foods. The recipe below for the Apple Cocktail Pizza originated with Miss Dorothy Britton, home economist at the Dominion Experimental Station, West Summerland.

APPLE COCKTAIL PIZZAS

Baking powder biscuit mixture
1 clove garlic
½ cup grated Canadian cheese
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan
-Cheese
2 tablespoons tomato paste
4 tablespoons cooked bacon bits
¾ cup finely chopped apples
¼ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon thyme
Dash curry
Parsley
2 teaspoons melted butter
Rub mixing bowl with a clove of garlic. Combine finely grated cheeses, tomato paste, cooked bacon tips and finely chopped apple. Add spices, with the exception of parsley. Toss the mixture lightly.

Prepare pizza base according to your favorite baking powder biscuit mix. Roll dough to ¾ inch thickness, cut with 1 ¼ inch cookie cutter. Shape individual pieces of dough by making indentations in the center and pinching up the sides to form a shell. Fill filling into shells then top with a few drops of melted butter. Sprinkle with parsley. Bake in 375°F. oven for 8 to 10 minutes or until brown. Serve warm.

Note: The unbaked pizzas may be frozen or stored in the refrigerator successfully if the melted butter is added just prior to baking. Also a slightly longer baking time is required.

Girl Guides are Special Guests At Meeting of Peachland Institute

PEACHLAND—The WI held the Christmas meeting on Friday, in the Municipal Hall, with the newly-elected president, Mrs. L. Ayres, in the chair giving a warm welcome to all members and the many guests present, including the Girl Guides who had been specially invited. This Company of Guides is sponsored by the institute.

At the short business meeting, it was decided to send a donation to the Community Christmas Tree Fund. Christmas cards are to be sent to shut-in members. The roll call theme was "Where would you like to be for Christmas?"

Following the adjournment of the meeting, carols were sung by all.

A program had been arranged for entertainment during the afternoon. Piano selection, Mrs. W. R. Smith; recitation, Rolland Whinton; solo, Mrs. Jeff Todd; piano selection, Mrs. W. R. Smith; solo, Lynda Sundstrum; humorous reading, Mrs. S. E. Manning; and recitation, Rolland Whinton.

An exchange of gifts followed, with Rolland Whinton and the Girl Guides making the presentations to the women.

A delicious tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ivor Jackson, Mrs. Ayres, Mrs. K. Domi, Mrs. L. B. Fuls and Mrs. F. E. Wright.

On behalf of the Guides, Marva Champion thanked the institute members for their hospitality and entertainment.

Rifleman Blamed For Big Bush Fire

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—A rifleman firing an incendiary bullet was blamed Wednesday night for starting California's biggest brush fire of the year.

Paper Stopping Publication for Reorganization

MONTREAL (CP)—The Montreal Sun, recently-founded daily tabloid, announced Wednesday it is suspending publication temporarily pending reorganization.

Lou Miller, managing editor, said the newspaper was well-received in Montreal since its first issue Nov. 10, but because of internal problems "we will suspend operations until we can reorganize the company."

Investigators identified him as Jerry Stewart, 21. They said he fired a bullet which touched off dry grass on the nearby Stewart ranch, owned by his father.

The fire has blackened about 60,000 acres in its four-day sweep through rolling hills near this historic mission village. Seventeen homes and cabins have been destroyed.

No charge has been filed against Stewart. Arson investigators said the fire started accidentally when Stewart failed to notice an incendiary bullet among shells he was using for target practice.

The children are in an orphanage at Mooseheart, Ill., where they have been since the accidental death of Mrs. Teskey's husband earlier this year. Burgess is a $3,900-a-year customs officer.

Colombia Mourns 84 Fire Victims

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Colombia mourned Wednesday night for 84 victims of fire and panic that turned a department store into a death trap for Christmas shoppers.

The fire and frenzied stampede swept the Vida Store, a downtown Bogota Tuesday night. Fifty were injured and dozens of others affected by smoke and fumes from flames created by the explosion of a short-circuited display of Christmas lights.

WAS THE LARGEST

The loss of life was the largest on record for a department store fire. Files of the National Fire Protection Association, in Boston, showed it doubled the previous high—the death of 41 persons at Christchurch, New Zealand, Nov. 18, 1947.

National mourning was decreed by President Alberto Lleras Camargo in this South American country of 12,000,000.

The government will pay for the funerals of the clerks and shoppers, mostly women, who died.

Store manager Alberto Mazuera said that deaths might have been held to about 20 but for panic that sent many clawing and screaming up a stairway that led only to a mezzanine office.

BLOCKED BY FLAMES

The stairway had seemed a pathway of safety to shoppers trapped among laden counters at the rear of the store—only 23 feet wide—by a curtain of flames at the centre.

But it turned into a funeral pyre for masses of men, women and children, some with Christmas purchases in their arms.

Fireman Pedro Rodriguez Ramirez worked his way with a hose to the corpse-littered stairway, then to a rear storeroom. "I found nine or 10 young women kneeling with their arms outstretched—they were burned to a crisp," he said.

Merry Christmas Not Likely in Nickel Belt

By PETER SYNOWICH
Canadian Press Staff Writer
SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — The Nickel Belt has pinned its hopes on a happy New Year—a Merry Christmas is unlikely.

With residents anxiously watching government-sponsored negotiations in Toronto, welfare workers Wednesday reported grim psychological effects accompanying a $12,000,000 payroll loss in the International Nickel Company strike which started Sept. 24.

At the same time the company announced it doesn't intend to pay the usual $25 Christmas bonus. And the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers said it won't stage its annual $14,000 Christmas party for children.

"Christmas will be bleak in most homes," said Rev. J. J. Delaney, in charge of the Roman Catholic relief depot giving food and clothing to about 20 families daily.

EVERYTHING STOPS
He is "afraid to think what will happen" if the Toronto negotiations collapse. "Everytime there's a news report here in the depot everyone stops and goes to the radio."

A company spokesman said that even with a quick settlement it would be four weeks before most of the strikers were back on the job. Pay cheques would take two weeks to come through.

In Toronto Inco general manager R. H. Waddington said his firm has begun paying Christmas bonuses to office employees and pensioners but "no plans are being made at the present time" to give them to the 14,800 strikers.

"It isn't a punitive measure," he said. "They just don't meet the regulations."

Mine - Mill financial secretary Norman Jacques said strike pay has been "running close to $100,000 a week."

NO CLC AID
The Salvation Army plans to distribute 200 Christmas hampers to needy families at a cost of $5,000 but there is still no sign here of any aid from the Canadian Labor Congress, which has said it will act as a clearing house for donations from individual unions.

Father Delaney said business firms, individuals, church organizations and unions have sent tons of food and clothing and $10,000 in cash directly to the relief depot and it has gone to about 4,000 families.

"We're just providing the bare necessities of life."

Strikers' families were doubling up apartments. Some homes were unheated two or three days at a time in 10 - below - zero weather. Bread and potatoes were the basis of many meals.

At one school a small boy stole a classmate's lunch because he didn't have one of his own.

RCAP search and rescue officials said all civilians in the 30-mile stretch between the coast of Vancouver Island and about 75 miles northwest of here—have been alerted to watch for clues to the missing airman.

The airman, FO John McLaren, 22, of St. Lambert, Que., parachuted from the two - seater CF-100 all-weather jet after the craft developed "mechanical difficulties."

The plane's pilot, FO J. C. Callaghan of North Kamloops, B.C., was rescued from the waters of the Strait of Georgia about five miles offshore from Campbell River early Wednesday.

He is in "good" condition in RCAP hospital at Comox.

The ground search was spurred with new hope Wednesday when a flying helmet was found on a road near the beach at Oyster River.

Death Sentence For U.S. Strangler

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—"Some crimes are so revolting there is only one penalty—the death penalty," said Judge John A. Hewicker.

Before him stood Harvey Glatman, 31, a Los Angeles television repairman who had confessed during three young women and remote areas to take photographs, then raping and slowly strangling them.

"The torment and the suffering those girls underwent," said Hewicker, "must have been horrible. I will impose the death penalty as the only proper judgment."

Air, Sea Search At Coast Continues

VANCOUVER (CP) — A massive ground, air and sea search was started at dawn today for a 22-year-old RCAP navigator who vanished Tuesday night after he bailed out of a crippled jet plane near here.

RCAP search and rescue officials said all civilians in the 30-mile stretch between the coast of Vancouver Island and about 75 miles northwest of here—have been alerted to watch for clues to the missing airman.

The airman, FO John McLaren, 22, of St. Lambert, Que., parachuted from the two - seater CF-100 all-weather jet after the craft developed "mechanical difficulties."

The plane's pilot, FO J. C. Callaghan of North Kamloops, B.C., was rescued from the waters of the Strait of Georgia about five miles offshore from Campbell River early Wednesday.

He is in "good" condition in RCAP hospital at Comox.

Montreal Fire Damage Totals $10,000,000

MONTREAL (CP)—A smoky, three-alarm fire wrecked the upper floors of a trucking company's east-end warehouse Wednesday night and one company official said damage to the building and stored goods could surpass $10,000,000.

Roger Sauriol, assistant manager of the J. B. Baillargeon Express Company, said losses would "probably exceed $10,000,000."

However, company president Andre Baillargeon, said it was impossible to estimate damage. "The building contained furniture, antiques and other goods, but we cannot possibly make an estimate of the damage yet," he said.

The wind - fed flames raced over tar roofs, gutting the upper floor of a two-storey section and the top two floors of a five-storey section. Cause of the fire was unknown.

FOUR SKIERS KILLED
VIENNA (AP) — Four skiers lost their lives Wednesday when an avalanche buried a party of 11 Czechoslovaks in the Tatra Mountains, Radio Prague said. Rescue parties managed to save the other skiers.

British Airman Sentenced to Year in Jail

LONDON (Reuters) — A 21-year-old British airman was sentenced Wednesday to a year in jail and ordered dishonorably discharged from retaining secret documents dealing with the testing of Red Duster guided missiles.

Senior Aircraftman Michael Julian Brown originally pleaded not guilty to the charge but changed his plea to guilty after the prosecution completed its case.

The documents were found in Brown's suitcase while he was working as a clerk with a unit testing guided missiles at the Woomera range in Australia.

Concert Promoting Christmas Spirit

OLIVER — Once again Christmas is here and for those not quite in the Christmas Spirit yet, the Southern Okanagan High School has just the program outlined to get them in the mood. Friday, Dec. 19, at the SOHS auditorium beginning at 7:30, the students are presenting their annual Christmas concert and pageant.

The program is under the direction of Stan Roberts. Music is directed by Brian Baker. The program contains all the familiar carols and some new ones along with Christmas songs, in the eight scenes of the pageant representing Christmas, Past and Future.

The first scene opens on the hustle and bustle of shopping for the modern Christmas, portrayed by Grade 9-C students, directed by K. Frey.

The second scene — Wartime Christmas — 1944, is portrayed by Grade 9-A under the direction of John Walsh.

Third scene — Christmas 1865 — depicts the origin of the carol "O Little Town of Bethlehem" by Grade 7-B, director, R. J. Shannon.

In the fourth scene — 1818 — Franz Gruber's writing of the famous carol "Silent Night," is portrayed by Grade 8-C students, director, Don Irving.

Fifth scene — The first Canadian carol "Moonlight in Winter" by Father Jean de Brebeux. This scene is under the direction of H. Petersen.

Sixth scene — Christmas in the French custom — 1500's — by Grade 9-B, directed by W. Jory.

Seventh scene — The first Nativity scene which had its beginning in the early 1200's, directed by Mrs. Don Wood.

Eighth scene — The Finale — All the cast will surround the Nativity scene and sing the favorite carol "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The hour and half program is designed for an evening of the best in Christmas entertainment.

WORDS OF THE WISE — The difficult part in an argument is not to defend one's opinion, but rather to know it. — (Andre Maurois)

Toronto Editor to Head Delegation

TORONTO (CP)—B. T. Richardson, editor of the Toronto Telegram, will head the Canadian delegation to the sixth Commonwealth Relations Conference to be held in Palmerston North, New Zealand, Jan. 10-24.

Topic at the unofficial gathering of prominent persons from various parts of the Commonwealth will be "the structure and functioning of the Commonwealth."

Other Canadian delegates are R. C. S. Blue, past president of the Toronto men's branch of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs; Professor J. J. Deutsch, head of the department of economics and political science at the University of British Columbia; B. B. Dubinski of Winnipeg, a Polish-born lawyer and a member of the institute since 1930; and Edgar McInnis of Toronto, president of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs.

The Commonwealth Relations Conference, held at five-year intervals since 1933, bring together delegations from the various institutes of international affairs within the Commonwealth and observers from other Commonwealth countries.

During the refreshments, Sister Cochet read a very humorous story which she had written during the evening's events, including all members present.

The members wish to extend greetings for a very merry Christmas and "Happy New Year" to all sisters and brothers.

FIRM TO PROSECUTE CLAIM IN B.C.

Transfers Pipeline Suit to Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Calgary firm of Dutton-Williams Bros. Ltd., has transferred its $5,000,000-plus pipeline suit to Vancouver.

The case is against Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd., Vancouver, and the New York consulting engineers Ford, Bacon and Davis, Canada Ltd.

It arises out of the Calgary company's construction of 560 miles of gas transmission line and distribution facilities in the interior of B.C.

Dutton-Williams Bros. started an action last month in Calgary but discontinued it there in order to prosecute its claim in British Columbia.

R. H. Barron filed the writ in Vancouver Registry against Inland Natural Gas for $3,794,000 claimed by Dutton-Williams as the balance due it for the $11,896,000 job.

The suit against Ford, Bacon and Davis is for $1,500,000 damages for alleged failure to co-operate with Dutton-Williams in the construction job.

VOICIFEROUS BIRD

The killdeer is one of the plovers, which differ from sandpipers in having chunkier bodies, shorter thicker necks, large eyes, and more conspicuous plumage. Also, its pigeon-like bill is not built for probing in mud or sand. Its white throat and underparts are body marked by a black band around the neck, another black band across the breast, and a third—from eye to eye—above its white forehead. The eye is surrounded by a red ring. The rump and upper tail feathers are orange-brown.

ENGINE CERTIFIED

LONDON (Reuters)—An airworthiness certificate has been granted to the Rolls Royce Conway turbo-jet engine, it was announced Wednesday. Seventy airlines powered by Conway engines have been ordered throughout the world. Trans-Canada Air Lines and Alitalia have chosen them for the Douglas DC-8.

Abundance of Food, Entertainment at Royal Purple Party

OLIVER — The order of the Royal Purple held its annual Christmas banquet Tuesday evening with 50 members enjoying the abundance of good foods and entertainment.

Lady Vera Venables was in charge of the banquet and Lady Agnes Padgett arranged the entertainment.

Highlight of the evening was the arrival of Santa Claus and the distribution of gifts. The beautiful doll donated by Lady Dolly McKillop was won by Lady Eva McKillop.

During the evening a collection was made with proceeds going to the March of Dimes.

It is reported that the cake raffle was very successful with the lucky winner, Mrs. Charles Howard, being very happy with the beautiful cake donated by Mrs. Chris Goodman.

The proceeds from the raffle went to the Sunnybank Piano Fund.

Oliver Rebekahs Hold Annual Party For Christmas

OLIVER — The Golden Heart Rebekah Lodge held its annual Christmas party at the home of Sister Lavik's with 25 attending the gala event.

The evening of games and fun was highlighted by the gift exchange, as the Noble Grand Sister Kay Preston acted as Mrs. Santa Claus with helpers Sisters Doerflir and Extacaille.

The lovely gifts were greatly admired.

During the refreshments, Sister Cochet read a very humorous story which she had written during the evening's events, including all members present.

The members wish to extend greetings for a very merry Christmas and "Happy New Year" to all sisters and brothers.

Fish Experts Not Opposed to Dam

VANCOUVER (CP) — Salmon fishery experts expressed satisfaction Wednesday with a proposed $521,624,000 plan to dam

Oil Company Changes Name

MONTREAL (CP)—Shareholders of McColi-Frontenac Oil Company Ltd., at a special meeting approved a bylaw authorizing the company's application to change its name to Texaco Canada Ltd.

The change, if approved by the supplementary letters patent, would become effective Feb. 2, 1959.

A. N. Lilley, president, said the new name will more closely identify the company's range of petroleum products which carry the trade name Texaco.

A spokesman for the company said the vote on the change of name was unanimous.

The company has retail outlets from coast to coast. Its history extends back to 1873 when the old firm of McColi and Anderson was formed in Toronto to handle kerosene and lubricants. In 1927, McColi-Frontenac was formed by the amalgamation of McColi Brothers, Limited and Frontenac Oil Refineries Limited.

The company holds almost 100 per cent ownership in Regent Refining (Canada) Ltd., and has interests in western Canadian oil and carries out exploration in partnership with Texaco Exploration Company, a subsidiary of the Texas company.

the salmon-rich Fraser River system.

They said the plan, outlined in a report of the Fraser River board issued Tuesday in Ottawa and Victoria, appeared to make possible the provision of economical hydro power and Fraser flood control without damaging the fishery.

Previously the experts had consistently opposed all plans to dam the Fraser on grounds the salmon run would be endangered.

The report said more than 1,300,000 horsepower could be generated on the Fraser system without ill-effect to 80 per cent of the salmon fishery. However, further studies would be required before findings could be regarded as final.

HAPPY COMPROMISE

Senator Tom Reid, chairman of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, welcomed the plan as "an apparently happy compromise" in the long power-versus-fish argument.

"I'm in favor of anything that can prevent floods and provide power without seriously damaging the fisheries. The report appears to provide for all three factors."

C. H. Clay, chief Pacific coast engineer with the department of fisheries, commented: "I am happy with the plan."

In Victoria, Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston said the amount of electricity expected under the plan is too small to affect other government plans to develop the Columbia and Peace rivers.

Subscription Dance Very Successful

OLIVER—French's twirlers reported a very successful "Subscription Dance" held Saturday night. Dancers attended from Wenatchee, Omak, Tonasket, Pentiction and Summerland as well as Oliver.

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Bill French assisted by guest callers from visiting towns.

Further reports from the club: Fred Proulx, president of French's Twirlers, along with instructors Bill and Leona French and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Potter attended the organization meeting held in Peachland Dec. 14. Progress of this organization will be announced later.

All square dancers are reminded of the New Year's Eve Party, sponsored by French's Twirlers to be held in the Community Hall. Plans are now being finalized for the dance, with special entertainment and lunch arranged for the big celebration to greet the New Year.

A dead city is coming to life in the steaming, bird-haunted jungles of Peten, in northern Guatemala. The Book of Knowledge Annual describes how teams of archaeologists and other scientists from the University of Pennsylvania are restoring the ancient city of Tikal, once the largest centre of the Maya civilization, which began in the third or fourth century A.D. After the old empire had flourished in Guatemala for centuries, the Mayas abandoned these cities and formed a whole new group of city-states farther north, in what was the one the Spaniards found when they conquered that region in the 16th century.

SPORTS DIARY

THE PENTICTON FISH, GAME and Rifle Club has come up with an idea, which will provide entertainment for Penticton residents and provide funds for a worthwhile charity at the same time.

The club is holding a holiday turkey shoot at the range on the West Bench Sunday, Dec. 28, from 9:30 in the morning until dark.

The event is open to anyone wishing to enter and will feature rifle, shotgun and non-shooter events. You don't even have to be able to shoot a gun to win a turkey.

This is the part that provides the entertainment. Another part of the program will raise money for the March of Dimes.

A SPECIAL TRAP-SHOOTING competition between several Penticton service clubs and other organizations has been planned.

Roy Hay of the Fish and Game group has issued an invitation for any club or organization wishing to enter a team in the competition to contact him.

Teams may have as many shooters as they wish. The team with the smallest number of shooters will be the determining factor in deciding how many scores on each team will count.

If, for example, the smallest team has six shooters, the six best scores on each team will be used to determine the winning team.

Service clubs in the city have already signified their intention of competing in the event.

ENTRY FEE FOR EACH team has been set at $5, regardless of the number of shooters.

This will, in turn, be matched by $5 from the Fish, Game and Rifle Club.

The club has earmarked 50 percent of the entry fees for the March of Dimes.

Each member of each team will take ten shots at 16 yards. Shells must be purchased from the club at the range. Pigeons will also be provided.

The club hopes that the competition will become an annual event.

With this view in mind, the Penticton Board of Trade has put up a valuable "President's Challenge" trophy for the winning unit.

A special donation of five dozen prizes has been received courtesy of a prominent brewing company.

THE WHITBY DUNLOPS, WORLD hockey champions, got a surprise in Toronto last night when they were beaten 6-5 by the University of Toronto Blues.

The win gave the Blues more fuel for their bid to represent Canada in the 1960 Winter Olympics.

Selection of the Blues would enable the CAHA to send a team of amateurs — in Olympic years reinstated professionals cannot play in the world tourney.

If the University club's win was not a fluke, they are probably strong enough to be the Canadian representative.

QUAKERS, FLYERS WIN

WHL Rear Ranks Take a Shuffle

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The rear ranks in the Western Hockey League's prairie and coast divisions took a shuffle Wednesday night.

Spokane Flyers went into sole possession of fourth place on the coast, two points up on New Westminster Royals, through a combination of the Flyers' own 7-4 decision over Victoria and Saskatoon's 2-1 victory over New Westminster.

No games are scheduled to night. Friday night New Westminster, which got the worst of the whole Wednesday night affair, continues its prairie tour against Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton in the only other game.

Spokane remains three points back of third-place Victoria on the coast while Saskatoon leapfrogged with its victory to one point ahead of last-place Winnipeg on the prairies.

At Saskatoon, the Quakers slipped ahead with the only goal of the first period, fenced with the Royals through a scoreless second and matched goals in the final.

Les Lilley's goal at 15:28 of the first was followed by Gordon Labossiere's effort early in the third to give the Quakers a 2-0 lead.

Ron Matthews replied for the Royals at 12:30 with a goal that eased in off Saskatoon defenseman Billy Bucyk, but even putting their goalies for a few seconds late in the period couldn't give New Westminster a chance to even the score.

The game in Spokane saw brothers Al and Ching Johnson leading the Flyers' honor list. Each scored two goals, bringing to seven the number Al Johnson has counted in the last three games.

Walt Bradley, Max Meklik and Lloyd Maxfield rounded out the Spokane scoring while Murray Wilkie, Junior Wilson, Stan Baliuk and Gordie Hawthorn turned in singles for Victoria.

It was 3-2 for Spokane after the first 20 minutes of play, but the Flyers surged ahead 6-3 in the second period.

Proclaims Nino World Champion

NEW YORK (AP)—Straightening up to his full five feet, five inches, manager Bobby Gleason Wednesday proclaimed Nino Valdes as heavyweight champion of the world and dared the world's best to joust with his Cuban giant.

Gleason's proclamation was pronounced in the corridors of the International Boxing Club's office in Madison Square Garden.

"The time has come for action," bellowed Bobby. "We can no longer wait for Floyd Patterson and his manager Cas d'Amato to unmask their intentions."

"Effective immediately, they are out. My tiger is in. Our first defence will be against Pat McIntyre at the Garden Friday night. Come one and all, the box office men await."

What prompted the coup d'etat? "My old bum just turned 31," replied Gleason promptly. "I am 34. Our blood is thinning. Time is running out on us. And besides my bum is better than the other bums around today."

What if Patterson should decide to fight him?

"We will be fair," said Bobby. "We will fight him. But my guy can punch and Cus doesn't like his guy to fight punchers so it appears very unlikely that the match will be made."

"Now who else is there around? Ingemar Johansson (Sweden's European champion) and those two Britishers, Brian London and Henry Cooper."

"My bum will gladly fight the three of them in one night any time and any place they say. And old Nino will flatten all three in a total of eight or nine rounds."

SULLIVAN HAS PROFITABLE WEEKEND

New York captain Red Sullivan watches the puck shot by Andy Bathgate (not shown) whizz past goalie Glen Hall of Chicago to tie up the game in New York, 3-3, the final score. Sullivan had a big week-end, picking up two assists on Saturday against Toronto and a goal and another assist against Chicago the next night. He is Rangers' second highest scorer with 24 points, second only to Andy Bathgate, who has 37.

Lindsay Reasserts NHL Leadership Qualities

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ted Lindsay, whose well-known leadership qualities haven't been too prominent lately, reasserted his old fiery self Wednesday in leading his Chicago Black Hawks to a 5-2 win over Boston Bruins.

The scrappy, scar-faced veteran of 15 National Hockey League seasons scored two goals and got one assist in the game, his highest scoring outburst so far this season.

Lindsay always was a leader. At various times hockey's highest-scoring left winger has led the NHL in penalties, goals, and assists. Two years ago with Detroit Red Wings he scored 30 goals and 55 assists to set a season's record for leftwingers.

The next season he was shipped off to last-place Chicago apparently for leading his Detroit teammates a little too much — he incurred the wrath of management by becoming the head of a player's union.

At Chicago last year, Lindsay scored a respectable 15 goals and got 24 assists, but just couldn't sagging Hawks.

Wednesday, he did. Early in the first period, he put Chicago ahead by bouncing the puck off the stick of Bruin defenseman Fern Flaman to score his third goal of the season.

He engineered Ed Litzenberger's power-play goal to give the Hawks a 2-0 lead. Ron Murphy made it 3-0 before the first period ended, but Boston's Guy Gendron tallied twice in the second period while Chicago's Elmer Vasko sat out a five-minute penalty.

SKOV SCORES

Glen Skov clinched it for Chicago with his first goal of the year and got in on the insurance goal by flipping the puck out to Lindsay in the third period.

The win was Hawks' first in eight games.

It was important in the standings, too, bringing them into a fourth-place tie with New York Rangers, who play tonight at Detroit.

Only one scheduled game has the last place Toronto Maple Leafs meeting the first-place Montreal Canadiens.

Team Morale is Not a Problem At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown may have problems but team morale, he says, is not one of them.

Asked about the mental attitude of Cleveland Browns, sharpening up their attack for Sunday's do-or-die National Football League game against New York Giants, Brown said:

"It's one thing I'm not worried about. Sure the fellows felt badly about losing but they know they played a darn fine football game."

Brown lost 13-10 to the Giants last Sunday in a game that forced a playoff engagement to decide the eastern conference champion. The winner meets Baltimore Colts for the NFL title Sunday, Dec. 28.

Brown joined the Giants in hoping for a dry field at New York's Yankee Stadium. His reasoning sounded similar to that of Vince Lombardi, offensive coach for the Giants.

"We have more team speed... so a bad field hurts us more," said Brown. "I believe the Giants are a shade bigger."

Lombardi said the Giant offense "is built more on quick cuts rather than power."

TOBY, JOHN SPLIT BOWLING HONORS

Toby Emmerick and John Waterman split individual honors in Men's Commercial five-pin action at Bowl-a-Mor Recreations Wednesday night.

Toby turned in a 338 single and John had a high triple of 826, Penticton Retreading swept team honors with an 1155 single and 3275 triple.

In Ladies' Commercial play, Marguerite Schulte had individual high single with 301 and Angie Pringle high three with 665.

Cranran's took ten midhigh single with 1008 and Valley Hotel had a high triple of 280.

Nat Heads Group Hoping to Take Over B.C. Lions

VANCOUVER — (CP) — Restaurant Nat Bailey said Wednesday he is the man behind a plan to take over the British Columbia Lions of the Western International Football Union as a privately-owned football club and later sell shares.

Bailey, who is president of the Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast baseball league said "I just want to see the club operated as a business. Off the field I mean. On the field, that's where it should be a sport."

He said he was behind a survey conducted by a research company which asked football club members if they favored private ownership.

"The facts developed by the survey and plans for taking over as a privately-owned club, more or less, were to have been announced at a gathering of press, radio and TV men Dec. 22," he said.

He said the meeting would still be held, but the date had not definitely been set.

Under the plan, a group would take over the football club and sell shares, as Bailey and other Vancouver businessmen did with the Vancouver Mounties.

Bailey said he had potential associates in the proposed move, but he wouldn't disclose names at this time.

Leafs Win 6-4 Over Rossland

NELSON (CP)—Nelson Maple Leafs outskated and outplayed Rossland Warriors to the tune of 6-4 in a Western International Hockey League game here Wednesday night.

Olle Doroshov paced the Leafs to their victory by slamming three goals past Rossland goalie Bill Margoreth, one in each period of the game. Other Nelson goals were by Bill Taylor, Mickey Maglio and Lee Hyssop. Harold Jones got two Rossland goals and Leo Lucchini and Gil Desrochers one each.

The score was tied 2-2 and 4-4 after the first two periods.

Dunlops Beaten by Toronto University

TORONTO (CP) — University of Toronto Blues enhanced their bid for a trip to the 1960 Olympics with a 6-4 upset win Wednesday night over the world champion Whitby Dunlops in an exhibition hockey game.

Blues, who have dominated the Senior Intercollegiate League for the last few years, threw a powerhouse defence against Dunlops, leading in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series, after grabbing an early 3-0 lead.

When Blair, Whitby manager, said the varsity club is "better than a lot of senior teams in Canada right now."

"For Varsity's sake we would like to play them again in January. I think we'd do better next time."

ONLY TOP GAME

The game was the only one Blues have planned this season against a major club. They hope the win will convince the Canadian Olympic Committee the club is good enough to represent Canada in hockey competition at the Olympics at Squaw Valley, Calif., in 1960.

The 2,142 fans, mostly University of Toronto students, saw a thrilling finish. Dunlops capitalized on Varsity penalties and a high flip shot that bounced into the net to tie the score 3-3. From then on it was a close battle.

Ron Casey scored the game-winning goal by beating Whitby's highly rated goaltender, John Henderson, with barely three minutes left in the game.

Did Long Counts Help Moore Win?

TORONTO (CP) — Yvon Durelle says he was the victim of two long counts in the first round of his Montreal title fight against Archie Moore last Wednesday and predicts he will take the world light-heavyweight champion in a return bout next summer.

Durelle, here Wednesday night for a local CBC television appearance, claims that while Moore was on the canvas and referee Jack Sharkey made two nine-counts the timekeeper counted off "13 or 14 seconds" on each knockdown.

"Sharkey took his own count and not that of the timekeeper," the stock Maritime fisherman said in an interview. Also the referee broke us up too much and I couldn't fight inside the way I wanted to."

Durelle had Moore on the canvas three times in the fight but one occasion was ruled a slip.

GREAT CHAMPION

Asked about a return bout, Durelle said:

"It'll probably be next summer and I don't care where. It hurts just as much getting hit in the States as it does in Canada."

"I'll go wherever there's the most money. In Moore's backyard or one of my fishing boats, in Toronto or Montreal. It doesn't matter."

"Moore is a great champion and a natural fighter, and I learned more in losing that one bout than in winning over the last 13 years. I think I'll take him in our return match."

Durelle said his remarks about the referee were not sour grapes.

and admitted Moore is "the smartest I ever met but not the toughest."

"I've fought about 25 guys that were tougher but he's harder to hit and harder to keep down."

In a nationally televised show from New York last week Moore displayed a gap in his teeth when he smiled.

"I knocked his tooth out—an upper right one—when I connected, with a left hook," Durelle said.

Asked if Archie left any marks on him Durelle replied:

"Only inside, where my heart is. It was the only thing marked."

The 29-year-old Durelle, who says he hates "cities and will 'take the noise of the sea to the noise of a car,'" planned to fly to Montreal today where he'll play hockey on trial with Moncton's senior Hawks.

He said he'll train differently for the return bout.

"We figured he'd come to me," said Yvon, "because how often do you see Moore move away from his opponent? But it would up I had to go after him and I hadn't trained that way."

"Next time I'll train to go after him and my sparring partners will be guys who know him."

Canadiens' Plante Turns to Painting

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Jacques Plante, Montreal Canadiens no-magic netminder whose style has been copied around the National Hockey League, exercises artistic licence.

It has nothing to do with goal-keeping but with brush and oils. Plante achieved some sort of notoriety and no small amount of needling some years ago for his prowess at knitting.

Sweaters, socks, toques—anything that can be put together from a few balls of wool—were turned out by Plante. He seldom knits now. He found it tiring on the eyes. But he has become an avid artist, purely for pleasure

Convert Ruling Gets Approval

NEW YORK (AP) — College football's rules-makers made the first change in 46 years which affected scoring values when they adopted the somewhat controversial two-point conversion last January.

Today their action received strong support from nearly 200 sports writers and broadcasters replying to the annual Associated Press post-season football questionnaire.

The rule adopted by the National Collegiate Athletic Association Committee awards two points for a successful running or passing play from the three-yard line after a touchdown and only one when the goal is kicked.

REDUCES TIES
In the AP poll, 133 said the rule should be retained and only 51 voted to abandon it immediately.

On the question of whether the two-point was successful in programs and in reducing the number of ties, 103 said it added to interest but there was an inconclusive 42-26 "yes" vote on eliminating ties.

The principal objection to the two-point conversion was that it put the point values of other plays out of balance.

"Why give two points for three yards when a player gets only six points for a 100-yard run?" asked one writer.

Several thought the rule should be kept but made more difficult by spotting the ball as much as 10 yards from the goal instead of three.

WORDS OF THE WISE

He who fumes at his quarrels becomes their victim.
—(David Seabury)

and relaxation.

FAVORS LANDSCAPES

Plante especially likes to do landscapes—in his cosy cellar den at home, not out of doors. From pictures in magazines or art publications, and sometimes from objects, he assembles his choice into one painting on his canvas.

Perhaps his most satisfying piece of work through this expression of artistic licence was done from three pictures. He fancied a particular landscape scene with a tree predominant. Thumbing through his picture collection, he came across a cat, then a bird.

The three became one in oils. The bird was sitting in the tree, watched by a wide-eyed, patient cat.

Along with 15 or so paintings in his den, Plante has a phonograph and an extensive record collection. Often he literally paints to music.

"I find it very relaxing, especially during the hockey season," said Plante. "I just take things easy and paint when I feel like it."

STARTED IN COLLEGE

"I have been interested in art since I attended College Immaculate-Conception in Shawinigan, my home town. One of the professors there encouraged me. I used to do drawings and sketches at first. Then I took up oils. The professor even arranged for me to get instruction courses by correspondence."

This smart Montreal goalie has done a pretty artistic job in hockey, too. For the last three seasons he has won the prized Vezina trophy as the NHL goalie least scored upon.

Only two other goalies have won the award three times in a row. Both wore the blue-blanc-rouge uniform of Canadiens: Bill Durnan won it four times straight—six altogether. The late George Hainsworth was a triple winner in successive seasons.

Plante became a full-season regular with Canadiens in the 1954-55 season when he was 24 years old. He moved up from Montreal Royals of the old Quebec Senior Hockey League, now the pro QHL.

With Canadiens, he pioneered the spectacular business of making long excursions from the net. AVOIDS REBOUNDS

"If you trap the puck, there's no rebound," Plante figured. "Then you can pass to one of your own men or clear the puck around the back of the net."

Plante, sometimes called Jake the Snake, has heard the boos of Montreal fans when infrequently he has made a mistake. Yet nobody can calculate the possible goals he has saved. Smart goalies on other clubs soon took to wandering also, but not in the spectacularly imitable fashion of Plante.

It was while with the senior Royals, who usually travelled by bus, that Plante did most of his road-trip knitting.

"I noticed my eyes getting tired from it, so I have done very little knitting since coming to Canadiens."

"How did I learn? That's easy. My mother taught me. You see, I was the oldest of 11 children and I was only 13 years old when the youngest was born."

"It was really something to keep that bunch outfitted in sweaters and stockings and toques and all that. Now, do you blame my mother for teaching me?"

Litz fired one goal and got two assists to break out of a sixth-place tie and move to a fourth-place tie.

Bernie (Boom Bom) Geoffrion of Montreal Canadiens still leads the NHL point-getting list with 17 goals and a league-leading 22 assists.

West Germany Becomes Third Military Power

By HERB ALTSCHULL

PARIS (AP) — West Germany is becoming the third most important military power in the Atlantic Alliance, taking the place left vacant by France through troubles in Algeria and disputes with her allies.

This picture emerged from the annual assessment of NATO strength. The meeting of ministers from the 15 treaty nations headed to its conclusion tonight with big gains for Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany and losses for French Premier de Gaulle.

But there was no dispute between representatives of the two leaders since de Gaulle became premier June 1, circumstances have made them friends seeking the same goals—at least over the short range.

However, the French had to defend their military shortcomings and failed to win the top place in allied councils which de Gaulle seeks.

All 15 countries agreed with the military goals presented by the supreme allied commander, U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad. But an official spokesman added that Norstad's program of 30 combat-ready divisions at full strength and of speeding up development of nuclear weapons was accepted only as an objective. This was an admission that some nations, notably France, are dragging their feet.

For several years NATO military planners have been disturbed by France's inability to end the Algerian rebellion and bring back to Europe the several hundred thousand troops sent to quell the nationalist uprising.

GERMANS BUSY
During these years the West Germans have been building a new military force. They were slow getting started, but Defence Minister Franz Josef Strauss claimed Wednesday night that they "have done pretty well." By the end of next March West Germany will have a 200,000-man force in the NATO defence line against any Soviet aggression, Strauss said.

French Army Minister Pierre Guillaumont said France will do her best to fulfil her European role but she has many overseas obligations and is "holding the flank of NATO," meaning North Africa.

Most NATO military officials from Norstad down are less concerned with the flanks than with getting French troops back into continental defences.

Pageantry Marks Papal Ceremonies

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Amid glittering and moving medieval pageantry, Pope John XXII today placed the red hats of their high office over the heads of 20 of the 23 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church.

More than 35,000 cheering persons filled the Basilica of St. Peter for the glittering public consistory, the climactic event in the ceremonies this week which increased the College of Cardinals to 74 men.

The new cardinals approached the papal throne singly, their hands folded in prayer, their bright scarlet trains trailing nine feet behind.

Each of the new princes of the church knelt quickly, kissed the Pope's slipper and then his hand. Each time the pontiff bent low to touch cheeks with the new member of the Sacred College.

Then for each Pope John repeated this solemn charge in Latin:

"For the praise of almighty God and the honor of the Holy Apostolic See, receive the red hat, the special badge of a cardinal's rank. By this you are to understand that you must show yourself fearless, even to the shedding of your blood, in making our holy faith respected, in securing peace for Christian people, and in promoting the welfare of the Roman Church, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

HATS NOT WORN
Each cardinal moved away without his red hat. They will be delivered later in the day and will never again appear in public until the owners are dead. When a cardinal dies, his hat is placed on his catafalque and then suspended from the ceiling of his cathedral.

The three new cardinals absent today were Fernando Cento, papal nuncio to Portugal; Joseph Bueno y Monreal, archbishop of Seville, Spain, and the Vatican's nuncio to Italy, Giuseppe Fietta. They will receive the insignia of their office from the chiefs of states of Portugal, Spain, and Italy following ancient custom between those predominantly Catholic nations and the Vatican.

LATER MEETING
Later today the Pope was to meet in secret consistory with the new cardinals and the 23 others to give them their symbolic rings, admit them to the privilege of counselling him and pledge them to secrecy concerning the college's future deliberations.

The week's ceremonies increased the Sacred College—the senate of the church—to its largest size in history and expanded it for the first time beyond the limit of 0 members set by Pope Sixtus V in 1586.

The 23 new cardinals named by the Pope Nov. 17 include 13 Italians and 10 non-Italians.

Hollywood's Top Stories of Year

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What a year!

Not in the memory of this reporter has there been a year in Hollywood so packed with news events.

It was a year marked by tragedy. It was also a year of scandal. Here is how the top 10 news events appear from this vantage point:

1. The Johnny Stompanato stabbing by Cheryl Crane. The death scene in Lana Turner's bedroom was more dramatic than any that could be concocted for a movie. Cheryl, Lana's daughter, was cleared in Stompanato's death.

2. Mike Todd's death in a flaming air crash. The fabled showman was at the peak of his career when his private plane carried him to his death in New Mexico. It was a stunning blow to his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, who was to write an epilogue to the story.

3. The Liz-Eddie-Debbie triangle. Todd's buddy, Eddie Fisher, consoled the widow. They even went to Grossinger's, the New York resort where Eddie had wed Debbie Reynolds. Result: Rift with Debbie amid large headlines.

4. Tyrone Power's sudden death. The handsome actor died after dueling his last villain in a Madrid movie.

5. The Dominican invasion. Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., son of the Dominican Republic strong man, made news with his gifts of expensive autos to Kim Novak and Zsa Zsa Gabor.

6. The surprise Oscars for Joanne Woodward and Miyoshi Umeki. The two young girls were scarcely given a chance to win moviedom's top prize.

7. The death of Harry Cohn, who had ruled Columbia with an iron hand.

8. The rise of the millionaire star. There was no sudden news event, but it was the most significant change within the movie industry. A dozen big stars — Brando, Holden, Wayne, Cooper, Stewart — seized the balance of power from the big studios and could demand fantastic deals.

9. The death of Richard Skelton. Few events in recent Hollywood times so touched the world as the passing from leukemia of Red Skelton's young son.

10. The Jayne Mansfield-Mickey Hargitay wedding. This was the wedding of 1958, a year that wasn't notable for its marriages. Jayne did her darndest to make it a glamorous event.

"My husband says I just have to consult you."

Opening lead — king of spades.

South stretched a point to open with a forcing two bid, but he didn't need much from partner to make a game. About all he required was a high club honor or the ace of spades to produce a game.

Declarer won the spade lead in dummy, led a trump, and lost the queen to the king. West returned a spade which declarer ruffed.

There being no more entries to dummy to lead another club, South led a trump. East cashed two trump tricks, and the contract was down one.

Declarer could have made the contract if he had played the nine from his hand on the first club.

Tomorrow: Responding to partner's opening bid.

Opposition to Menderes Rises; Turkey Enters Crucial Winter

ISTANBUL (AP) — Opposition to Prime Minister Adnan Menderes is rising within his own Democrat party as Turkey enters a crucial winter.

Menderes' political rivals are campaigning with more than usual truculence. The press, embittered by restrictions, has turned against him. Tension is running high.

Menderes, and Turkey with him, is going through hard times, probably the hardest since he came to power in 1950. In his drive to modernize the country, he has increased production and improved the lot of the peasants remarkably, but he has pulled
